GOV. L. D. BUNCOMBE.

Says He Hates the Pullman Corporation Awfully.

HOW HE SHOWS HIS DISLIKE.

His Administration Cuts the Pullman Assessment from $6,000 Per Car to $4,500—As a Member of the Board of Equalization the Governor Acquiesces.

In an interview on the strike published in last evening's STATE JOURNAL, Governor Lewelling said: "So far as the Pullman company is concerned, I have no sympathy for it."

When Governor Lewelling made that statement he may have forgotten that the people of the state have access to the records of his administration and that his record in dealing with the Pullman company shows that he must have been actuated by pretty strong sympathy when he allowed the last assessment of Pullman property to be made.

Governor Lewelling is not a member of the state board of railroad assessors but is a member of the state board of equalization, and as a member of the board of equalization he passes upon all the acts of the assessors, and any action of the board in which he does not concur he may help to remedy if he chooses.

Governor Lewelling and the other members of his administration showed their "lack of sympathy" for the Pullman company by reducing the assessment of the Pullman property in Kansas almost 33 1/3 per cent.

The equalization did not equalize very well either, as the assessors raised the assessment of the common tourist sleepers. There are on an average eight or ten tourist sleepers that go across the state in a week. The assessment on this class of cars was raised from $1,500 to $3,000.

The "lack of sympathy" was shown however, for this "heartless corporation" by the assessment of the regular Pullman sleepers. It was reduced on these cars from $6,000 to $4,500 each, and instead of eight or ten crossing the state in a week, between 25 and 30 cross the state every day in the year.

The previous board of railroad assessors (Republican) learned from the Pullman company that these first class cars cost when new $13,500 each and the law provides that all property must be assessed at its actual value.

That board of assessors was told that the average life of a Pullman car was 13 years and figuring for refurbishing and repairs the valuation would be about $7,000 on an average yet they assessed the cars but $6,000.

The Populist reform assessors however possessed "less sympathy" and they reduced the assessment to $4,500.

This, too, in the face of the fact that the Pullman company was the only corporation assessed by the board which was known to be paying dividends on its stock and had allowed its taxes to default compelling the state to go to the expense of an eight year's suit in the courts to collect back taxes due the state.

It will be hard for the average citizen to see where Governor Lewelling's lack of sympathy comes in.

SNAP SHOTS AT HOME NEWS.

There was a young lady named Mae,
Who came to Topeka to stay;

PERRY CONGRATULATED.

By Attorney General Olney for the Conviction of the Weathers.

United States District Attorney Perry has received the following letter which has reference to the conviction of the members of Sanders' army:

W. C. Perry, Esq., U. S. Attorney.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 26—I beg to acknowledge yours of the 21st inst., submitting special report respecting prosecutions in the so-called "common-weathers" cases.

I congratulate you upon the results attained, which seem to have been brought about by good management, and which are very much in the interest of the general public.

RICHARD OLNEY, Attorney General.

CAN CLOSE THE CLUBS.

Ex-Attorney General Bradford Says He Would Clean Them Out.

"All this talk about no law to close up these clubs is all bunk," said ex-Attorney General Bradford today. "If I were given absolute police power for thirty days I would guarantee to close up every club in the city and drive every disreputable character from town. I do not say this just to talk, but with all the experience of the office of attorney general behind me. Topeka has never been at such a low ebb of morals and the officers of the law wink at its violation. I would like to see some one with enough moral courage and backbone in him to take the matter in hand and see to the enforcement of the law."

[Mr. Bradford seems to be the kind of a man this county needs for county attorney.]

PASTOR AND FLOCK.

Tomorrow morning will be communion at the First Presbyterian church. Baptism of children will also take place.

The First Presbyterian church will do its share toward enforcing the liquor law and to that end, has appointed the following members as a committee to confer with the crusaders Monday evening: Rev. S. E. Alderson, A. E. Hoigera, Alexander Laird and Dr. R. S. Magee.

The Reuben Mission of the Presbyterian church are picnicking at Vinewood park this afternoon.

Rev. J. E. Adams, who was married to Nellie Dick a few months ago, is in the city. He and his wife will go to Hainan, a big island south of China, where they will engage in missionary work under the auspices of the Presbyterian board of foreign missions. Miss Montgomery will accompany them. Mr. and Mrs. Adams will leave here about the middle of August, and will stop in Corea and visit Mr. Adams' sister, Mrs. Laird. Before they leave this city a special meeting will be held at the First Presbyterian church for them.

Rev. E. S. Farrand has changed his abode. He now lives at 1401 West street.

The annual church picnic of the Westminster Presbyterian church will be held at Major Sims' grove, seven miles southwest of the city, on Wednesday, the Fourth of July.

A congregational meeting will be held at the first Lutheran church on Sunday morning in place of the morning service.

The improvements are being pushed at the First Methodist church.

The ministers of the city are going to preach a sermon on the crusade being carried on in this city.

The special music at the First Presbyterian church Sunday evening will be the most elaborate that has been presented in the city. It will be Rossini's magnificent sacred mass, "Sabat Mater."

Nothing quite as classical and operatic has been attempted and the quartette and chorus have been hard at work practicing it for the production. In addition to the regular quartette, consisting of Mrs. Geo. Parkhurst, Mrs. Frank Wear and Messrs. W. R. Carey and H. V. Hinckley, there will be a chorus of twenty-five voices. Mr. James Moore and Miss Lamont will also assist. Mr. Moore will sing the bass solo, "Pro Peccatis," and Miss Lamont the second soprano solo, "Fac Ut Portem."

Prof. Henry S. Wilder has been training the singers and he says that it is by far the most elaborate production that has been given in this city. He will play as an extra number on the pipe organ, the march and chorus from Tannhauser, by Wagner. The organ at the church has been thoroughly repaired and tuned.

ODD FELLOWS.

Capital lodge, No. 892, conferred the second degree on three candidates Thursday evening. These candidates will be taken through the third degree at a special meeting tonight.

Grand Secretary John A. Bright delivered an address at the Epworth league picnic at Vinewood yesterday afternoon. His subject was, "The Drummer Boy."

Installation of officers will take place in all the Odd Fellow lodges in the city at their first meetings of July. A number of the installations will be public.

Next Tuesday evening Shawnee lodge No. 1 will install the newly elected officers in the temple on Quincy street.

Saturday evening, July 7th, Topeka lodge No. 40 will publicly install officers. The exercises will be conducted without the ritual.

MRS. THORPE'S SUGGESTION

A Hundred Families in Topeka in Need of Help.

Mrs. L. E. Thorpe, the police matron, says that there is just as much destitution and wretchedness in Topeka now as there was last winter, and solicits contributions of provisions, clothing and other articles of necessity at her home, 510 Van Buren street, or at the police headquarters.

Mrs. Thorpe said to a JOURNAL reporter: "I know of at least one hundred families that will be dependent on charity next fall and winter unless some provision is made to give them work. I think now is the proper time to make that provision. A work house for the men and a wash house for the women is my idea of the right way to take care of them. If we are going to have these next winter, we will have to begin now."

THE CITY SEWER CASE.

Evidence for the Plaintiff Probably Concluded Today.

At the trial of the Decker, Mullins & Berry lawsuit at Lawrence yesterday, John P. Rodgers, C. O. Knowles and contractor Mullins were the principal witnesses against the city. The evidence for the plaintiffs may be concluded today. Those who appear to know say the contractor's case is weaker this time than at previous trials. One of the chief witnesses for the city is Engineer W. H. Barnes, for many years assistant city engineer. Mr. Barnes came from New York especially to testify in the case.

The jury at this trial is said to be above the average in intelligence. Most of them are farmers.

LIKE A THEATER.

Major Sully Says That Is the Plan of the Salvation Army Churches.

Major Sully of the Salvation Army said today: "The Salvation Army don't build churches. When we put up a building it is on the order of a theater. We try to avoid the plan of the modern church as much as possible."

"Where we have no buildings, we like nothing better than to rent an immense dime theater building with all the scenery and surroundings intact, and then we get the crowds."

Twenty-Five Cents.

You can afford to donate that, even if you don't go, to the racing matinee July 4 at the Fair grounds, for the benefit of Christ's hospital.

Bicycle Races.

There will be two at the racing matinee July 4 at the Fair grounds, for the benefit of Christ's hospital.

BAD GIRLS IN COURT.

One Accuses the Other of Stealing Her Clothing.—Court Notes.

Bessie Lane appears to be as bad as England's queen Beas is described by some historians and maybe a little worse. She is white, twenty-one years old and lives on East Seventh street. She wears a pink mother-hubbard wrapper and red slippers, and Messrs. Steele and Jenkins, of Chief Lindsey's command, arrested her last night at 12:30 for petty larceny. She is said to have stolen some vases, a lot of décolleté raiment and star-spangled hosiery from Ollie Somebody whose full name appears to be wrapped in a four-ply mantle of obscurity.

Miss Lane says she isn't guilty, but she put up $20 as security for her appearance in court Monday morning when both women will tell to Judge Ensminger their stories in the alleged dry goods and queensware swindle.

Police Pickups.

Gus Brown, the colored man with a wooden leg, was found guilty of robbing A. Griffin's "bank" (viz., old sock, buried in the back yard) and was fined $25. He can't pay it and he will be fed on official city hash for twenty-five days. His wife wouldn't be wise to lock his leg up in a bureau drawer hereafter when Gus feels in a larcenous mood.

Chippie Smith is a colored young man. He was arrested several days ago for vagrancy, but only got tried today. In all the time he has had to think it over he hadn't been able to think up any plausible story to tell the court how he supported himself. He was fined $3.

No robberies have been reported to the police for two weeks of any consequence. The operations of the thieves are limited to stealing such small articles as harness and chickens.

The police will get their monthly change of beats tomorrow noon. Sergeant Steele succeeds Tim Donovan as day sergeant while the latter is assigned to night duty.
